

Partners in Construction. Bonded by Trust.

March 10, 2016

Re: H1 Construction, Inc. – Dallas, TX

To Whom It May Concern:

H1 Construction, Inc. is a valued client of our agency. They are currently bonded by American Contractors Insurance Group Ltd. dba Texas Bonding Company, rated A (Excellent) by A.M. Best. We characterize their bond line of credit to be in the low-seven figures for single jobs with an aggregate in the capacity in the low-seven figures.

We would be pleased to entertain bond requests should they be required to provide them.

Any request for bonding must be made by our client, and be accompanied by underwriting information as required by the Surety. Each request will be evaluated by the Surety based upon conditions and information available at the time of the request, including but not limited to a contract and bond forms acceptable to our client and their Surety, as well as satisfactory evidence of financing for private projects. Any arrangement for bonding is a matter between our client and their Surety, and PCL Contract Bonding Agency assumes no liability to you or third parties if for any reason we do not execute bonds.

If you have any questions please feel free to give me a call.

Sincerely,

PCL Contract Bonding Agency

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads 'Eric Lesch'.

Eric Lesch
Principal/ Contract Surety Agent